PERSONAL BIO

I am based in Portugal. I am an advanced level Portuguese speaker. I am 56 and I have two daughters aged 17 and 22. I love travelling, dogs and roadbiking.

Exceptional reading comprehension and editorial precision developed through extensive experience as a senior copywriter and translation specialist for companies including Tradupla.

Strong observational skills with a refined aesthetic and linguistic judgment across multilingual content, marketing copy, educational materials, and client-facing communications.

Highly analytical and detail-oriented, with the ability to think critically, interpret nuanced information, and deliver consistent, high-quality evaluations in complex or ambiguous scenarios.

Excellent written and verbal communication skills, supported by a background in corporate communications, copywriting, translation, and international education.

Experienced working across a wide range of content types, style guides, editorial standards, and localization workflows while maintaining accuracy, tone, and cultural sensitivity.

Reliable, adaptable, and self-directed professional with a strong sense of ownership and commitment to delivering polished, high-quality work under tight deadlines.

Quick to learn new systems, workflows, and technologies, with an open-minded and solutions-focused approach to evolving professional environments.
